

UNDER ONE ROOF
FOR YEARS, LIVE
SEPARATE LIVES

High School Professor's
Family Secret Laid
Bare in Court.

The big house at No. 905 Sterling place, Brooklyn, where lived Prof. William J. Felter, principal of the Brooklyn Girls' High School, and his wife, has contained a strange secret for nearly three years. It just came out to-day. The husband and wife made an agreement of separation, which they intended to keep from the public ear. They were to live as if an ocean lay between them, yet for the good of their daughter Louise, who is a Vassar College junior, and is engaged to a Harvard man, they were to stay in the same house.

Recently their troubles became acute because, it was alleged, the professor failed to pay the $125 a month to his wife which the contract called for. They appeared before Judge Rosenthal in the Fourth District Municipal Court, where a private hearing was held. Mrs. Felter wanted $200 she said was due her, but the professor hesitated. Later he paid up, declaring it is said, that he oughtn't to, because the wife held furniture and wedding presents which were his as much as hers.

He had then left the Sterling place home and, it is claimed, had heard his wife meant to sue him for divorce. Another crisis came last Saturday when a truck drew up to the home and lugged off the articles the professor claimed while Mrs. Felter was out. Mrs. Felter says her husband took the stuff away. "They were married twenty-three years ago. We made the agreement of separation," said the wife to-day, "only to shield the professor; not to protect any one else."

WATCH ALL NIGHT FOR WOMAN FIREBUG

Tenants of Columbus Avenue
Apartment-House in Terror of Her Return.

Patrols recruited from the tenants of the apartment-house at No. 721 Columbus avenue kept vigil from 9 o'clock last night until daybreak to guard against the attack of a woman incendiary who set fire to the place yesterday afternoon. Such was the terror of the tenants that none would retire last night until the patrol had been formed. Mrs. Emma Bischoff, who lives on the fourth floor, was a mad by smoke yesterday afternoon and opening the door leading into the hallway, she saw a woman running down stairs. As the woman fled, flames mounted the stairways. Mrs. Bischoff sounded an alarm throughout the house. Few of the male members of the families were at home, and the women who saw their peril became panic-stricken.

"This is no time to faint. Bring a light!" Mrs. Bischoff shouted. Her courage inspired the others, and a bucket brigade was formed. The air in the halls was heavy with the odor of kerosene which had been poured on the stair carpets. The flames had mounted from the second to the top of the fourth stairs. The bucket brigade got the fire under control, and investigation revealed a large jug on the second floor, which apparently had been filled with kerosene. The police of the West One Hundredth Street Station were notified, and two patrolmen were assigned to guard the house last night. A meeting of tenants was held and George Schlimmer organized a patrol service providing that two persons on each floor stand guard while the others sleep. The police searched for the woman incendiary throughout the night.

Three Hundred Members of Lodge to Entertain Their Friends at Big Reception.

The three hundred members of Bronx Lodge of Elks, No. 871, B. P. O. E., will have a reception and entertainment at the Alhambra, Seventh avenue and One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street, Friday night, Jan. 18, and try their best to outshine any former effort of this famous lodge. The sale of boxes netted $35 and caused a spirited though friendly rivalry among bidders for the choice of boxes. Charles Ohmsel, Michael Kirby and Charles Lequer had a hot competition for first choice, Elk Ohmsel finally winning at $100. The other buyers were Fred Parr, Charles Lequer, Jerome F. Healy, Samuel Brothof, Patrick Brennan, Justice Ferry, of the Municipal Court, Peter Alonah, manager of his brother's famous Park Row "beanyery," Police Capt. H. W. Burfield, Dr. J. Lewis Amick, Raymond Mork, James Keane, F. Kearns, Patrick H. Clune, Supervisor of the City Record, Patrick Tracy and Michael Kirby.

THINKS HER HUSBAND VICTIM OF FOUL PLAY.

Mrs. Brewster Says He Had Lots of Money When He Disappeared.

Mrs. W. C. Brewster, of No. 323 East Nineteenth street, has given the police a description of her husband, who disappeared on Jan. 7. She says there is reason to fear that he may have been a victim of foul play. Brewster is described as forty-five years old, height 5 feet 10 inches, weight about 175 pounds, with blue eyes and black hair and mustache. He has a slight scar over the left eye. Mrs. Brewster says that on the day of his disappearance he had drawn a large sum of money from a bank.

ACTOR'S "LOYALTY" IS WIFE'S GRIEVANCE

It's for the "Other Woman,"
Mrs. Paris Alleges, and She Can't Rise to It.

Certain of Actor Herbert W. Paris's friends are alleged to have expressed a sense of "high regard for his loyalty" to "the other woman" Justice McCall, in the Supreme Court, shattered the idea when he required Actor Paris to pay Mrs. Paris, his lawful wife, $10 weekly pending the settlement of her suit for a limited divorce, which the Court entertained yesterday. It is in the story of the proceedings that Paris resumed his life as a man, the other woman" all such time as his inamorata dies or marries. His conception of such a piquant situation, his friends add, includes the belief that it would be wrong for him to recognize the rights of his lawful wife while the love for the other woman exists. Actor Paris says the whole story is "boosh." He denies the affair of "the other woman" in toto, and attributes the story to the jealousy of Mrs. Paris. She recently addressed him a letter, saying, among other things: "The proposition you have made me—that I stand to one side and you won't be my husband until the woman you care for marries—and then we can live together again—is more than I can stand. It is heartless! I'll break it. I cannot live with you, again, until you finish with this woman. You have wrecked my life." The next mail brought an answer from Paris on the letterhead of Alice Kaiser, a dramatic agent at No. 102 Broadway, in which he said that he considered it ill-advised that his wife should take the "middle course" proposed, and adds: "Please find it, as arranged."

LONDON SHIP OWNERS SILENT ON N. Y. SUIT.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The steamship companies here which are defendants in the suit begun yesterday in the United States Circuit Court at New York by Thomson & Co., of that city, exporters in the South African trade, who allege violations of the Anti-Trust act, decline to discuss the dispute while it is under investigation. A Royal Commission was recently appointed by King Edward to investigate the whole question of shipping rebates granted to exporters to the colonies, including the course purged by the so-called "South African Shipping Ring."
